WITH AN ENTICING BAIT

THE PRESIDENT IS NOW SEEKING THE FINNY TRIBE.

He Declines the Grangers' Invitation and Takes a Much Needed Rest—Congressman Mills' Opinion of the Call to Washington—Washington News Notes.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Clifton Forge, where the president has gone fishing, is at the headwaters of the James river and is well up on the Allegheny mountains beyond Lexington. The president has reluctantly declined the invitation to attend the Grangers' meeting at Williams' Grove, Pa., because he feels the necessity of rest.

The president has been confined closely to his desk and official duties for many months. He does not expect to be able to get any recreation except as he clears his desk in advance of congress, and takes a day or two at a time, as he will do now. He had hoped to be able to get into the North woods for a fortnight, but as congress lingers, and promises to stay until after the election, he has about concluded to make the best of the situation, and to get his vacation piecemeal, as he finds opportunity to get it without neglecting business. He has sent a letter to the Grangers' meeting, and his excuses to the committee from Pennsylvania were accepted as entirely reasonable.

Mr. Mills' Idea.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Congressman Roger Q. Mills has received a telegram from the sergeant-at-arms notifying him of the action of the house on Saturday in revoking all leaves of absence. Mr. Mills had arranged to be absent ten days or two weeks, making speeches at Yonkers, N. Y.; New Haven and Boston. When asked what he intended to do in view of the action of the house he said he had telegraphed Speaker Carlisle and would be governed by the latter's judgment. He thought the action of the house was merely to secure the presence of members at watering places near Washington in order to secure a quorum. The business in hand is merely routine, he said.

Democrats Will Hold a Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—There will be a caucus of Democratic members of the house within a few days for the purpose of taking action on the Hooker joint resolution authorizing the president to suspend the customs duty on cotton bagging, with a view to breaking up the bagging trust and the specific tariff bills introduced by Mr. Breckinridge, of Arkansas. It is probable that all of these measures will be given caucus approval and that they will be speedily passed by the house. There will also be a discussion of the general legislation outlook.

Mr. Randall Slowly Recovering.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—"The convalescence of Mr. Randall will be very slow," said Mr. Maken to day, "but it will be sure unless he experiences some sudden relapse caused by influences which can not always be controlled." Mr. Maken had charge of Mr. Randall's case when the Pennsylvania congressman was passing through the critical stages of his illness in Washington. He says that Mr. Randall will be able to return to Washington at the next session of congress.

Will Report Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Eight members of the house committee on foreign affairs were present at the meeting of the committee this morning. A sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. McCreary, of Kentucky, Chipman, of Michigan, and Hitt, of Illinois, was appointed to examine existing laws, see what is necessary to clothe the president with necessary authority to enforce the retaliatory law and report to the full committee on Thursday.

Considered Good Evidence.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The fact that William C. Endicott, Jr., son of the secretary, is now a guest of Joseph Chamberlain in England, is considered confirmatory of the report that his sister, Miss Endicott, is really engaged to the late English commissioner for the fisheries treaty.

Will Continue Investigating.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—At a meeting of the committee on manufactures this morning it was decided to go ahead with the investigation of trusts, taking up the cotton bagging trust on next Friday.

STILL SPREADING.

The Situation at Jacksonville Daily Growing Worse.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 29.—The yellow fever is fast gaining ground, and the situation here is growing very grave. The order that no refugees should be carried beyond the quarantine camp has created great excitement.

At 6 o'clock Monday evening the official yellow fever report for the day was ten new cases, nine recoveries and two deaths. The deaths were C. H. Pollard, Albert Fisher and Burton Mays, colored. Up to the time of the report there had been 110 cases and seven deaths. Sixty-two patients were under treatment.

The same old complaint is made: "No complete reports." Said a leading physician, in reply to a direct question: "I have no doubt but what there are double the number of cases reported. Many cases do not call a doctor, and in many others the doctor in attendance sneaks around and doesn't report. We are in for a good siege, and in a few days the numbers will increase more rapidly than now. The colored people are beginning to take it, and if they get thoroughly frightened, hundreds of them will be down."

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 29.—An anti-Catholic political society was organized in Minneapolis six months ago by some men well known in political circles, who have been so energetic in introducing the new movement that they now claim that it has extended to every portion of the city. The order has a division in every ward of the city, and one of the men who is soliciting members told a reporter that there were about eight thousand members.

Scott Declines Renomination.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A special dispatch to the Herald from Erie, Pa., says that Congressman William L. Scott has declined to be a candidate for re-election.

MEXICAN NEWS.

Tragedies, Accidents and Doings of Our Neighbor Republic.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 29.—At Havana, Cuba, $20,000 was collected for the sufferers by the Leon floods.

El Tiempo estimates that $500,000 will be raised for the sufferers by the Leon floods. At the San Agustin ranch, near San Diego de la Union, Pablo Gonzalez was struck by lightning and killed.

A statue to the Patriot Leandro Valle will be shortly erected on the Paseo de la Reforma in the capital.

Escanona, the bull fighter, who was recently gored and nearly killed at a bull fight in the capital, is recovering.

At Pachuca, while walking through the streets, Don Luis Lagaria was shot and killed by an unknown assassin.

The Advertising Prospective company, of London, sent $2,400 for the Leon sufferers, and Hayer, of Wisconsin, $500.

The press of the republic appear to be occupied with notices in reference to the Leon disaster, to the exclusion of all other news.

The price of pulque has become much cheaper in the capital, on account of the introduction of pulque from the section about Apam.

The points as to where a large portion of the money hidden by the robbers of Billante was concealed, were extracted from the wretches by means of torture.

At Atzacapalco near the capital, a young girl crossed in love took poison and died. Her lover, filled with despair, climbed to the tower of the cathedral in the capital and springing into space was dashed to pieces on the pavement below.

Chaleco is the name of the wretch who was recently captured in Mexico for the murder of his mistress. This monster had the habit of cutting the heads off the poor women as soon as he tired of them, and confessed to the murder of twelve women.

Don Agustin Corona and his son Fantaleon, owners of the Balan hacienda, state of Tlaxcala, are in jail on the charge of being engaged in an extensive counterfeiting business. They and four men named Ilbarre, who were also captured, had a most extensive plant at the hacienda valued at over $10,000 and were turning out a very large assortment of the queer.

A POLICEMAN'S CLUB.

In the Hands of a Hoboken Officer It Causes Death.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Peter Griffin, of No. 514 Henderson street, Jersey City, died at St. Francis' hospital Monday, and his relatives claim that his death was the result of injuries received at the hands of two Hoboken policemen. Griffin was arrested in Hoboken August 4 by Policemen Ryan and Harrison, charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was looked up and nothing was said about clubbing at the time. Five or six hours later Acting Chief Edmondson saw that the prisoner was very ill, and that he appeared to be suffering from paralysis. The sufferer begged to be sent to St. Francis' hospital where he lingered until his death. The matter will be thoroughly investigated.

Special Officer Grosch, of the Hoboken Ferry, used his club with telling effect early Monday morning. A number of tipsy men, who had been enjoying themselves at the big Plattebeuse festival, crowded into the ferry house at 3 o'clock in the morning and insulted some ladies. Grosch remonstrated and was hit with canes. He clubbed right and left, drawing blood from more than one head. The officer was knocked down and jumped upon, and was finally rescued by citizens. One man was placed under arrest. He said his name was Fred. Ohmer, a carpenter living in Grand street, this city. He had several scalp wounds on his head. Grosch could not identify him as one of the men who attacked him, and Recorder McDonough dismissed the prisoner.

Saratoga Races.

SARATOGA, Aug. 29.—First race, purse of $400, for maiden three-year-olds, distance three-quarters of a mile: Bellwood first, Ward second, Alloutown third. Time 1:17 3/4.

The second race was a handicap sweepstakes for all ages, at $20 each, with $500 added, mile and one-sixteenths: Vosburg first, Letretia second, Oarsmen third. Time 1:50 3/4.

The third race was for the Morrissey handicap sweepstakes for all ages, $50 each, with $1,000 added, mile and three-quarters: Montrose first, Peewee second, Wary third. Time 3:07.

The fourth race was for a purse $400, for maiden two-year-olds, five furlongs: Chestnut Bell first, Vendetta second, Penman third. Time 1:04 1/2.

The fifth race was for a purse of $400, for three-year-olds, one mile: Clara C first, Noonday second, Main third. Time 1:44.

A Father Dies From Grief and Shame.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 29.—Advices from Pocahontas announce the death of the Rev. Jesse Pratt, the oldest Baptist minister in the state. His death was peculiar. His son, J. R. Pratt, was on trial for assaulting a woman. The father seemed crushed by the affair, and asked to die before the verdict was announced. He died some hours before the jury came in sentencing his son to five years' imprisonment. His death undoubtedly resulted from grief and mortification.

Fears for the Dark Secret.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The gravest fears are entertained for the safety of Capt. Andrews and his tiny ocean craft, the Dark Secret. He is now seven weeks out from Boston, and when last hailed was about one thousand miles from Queenstown. He has not been sighted now for more than ten days, although in the route of steamers to Liverpool and Bremen. Wore he still afloat on a straight course he could hardly fail to meet a vessel nearly every day as he approached Ireland.

The Flagman Was to Blame.

LIMA, O., Aug. 29.—A freight train and a special train from Ottawa, having on board militia for Columbus, collided near here on the Dayton & Michigan railroad. Two cars and the engines were wrecked, but nobody was killed. The engineer of one of the trains, a conductor and two passengers were slightly hurt. The accident was due to the negligence of a flagman to stop one of the trains.

HE SCUTTLED HIS SHIP.

STRANGE ACTIONS OF A BRITISH CAPTAIN WHILE AT SEA.

With the First Mate He Bored Holes in the Vessel's Bottom and Compels the Crew to Desert the Sinking Ship—The Cause of His Strange Actions Unknown.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A strange tale was related Monday to the British consul by twelve sailors of the bark Gylde, who were brought to this city by the steamer Persian Monarch. They said that they left Quebec for Scotland, but the bark sprung a small leak in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and they put into St. John's for repairs. The voyage was resumed, and on August 19 another leak was discovered. Finally, the sailors claim, they discovered that Capt. Tait and the first mate were secretly boring holes in the vessel's bottom.

On the night of the 20th, a sailor named Lyons sighted the Persian Monarch, and on reporting it to the deck, was ordered by the captain to tell all hands to prepare to leave the ship, as he had determined to leave her. There was then ten feet of water in the hold.

When the men got on deck with their dunnage, the captain called them aft into the cabin and made them all sign a paper to the effect that the vessel was unseaworthy.

"There is now ten feet of water in the hold," said the captain, "but when you go aboard the steamer I want you to say that there are fifteen feet of water in the hold." When all hands got on deck the captain sent Boatswain Bergquist and six men to saturate the deck, upper woodwork and cordage with paraffine, which was done. He said he wanted to fire the ship before leaving her. When the steamer's boat came up the officer in charge came aboard and saw the paraffine. He asked why the stuff had been scattered about, and the captain explained.

All hands, with the exception of Second Mate Robinson, took to the boats, the latter saying he would stick to the ship as long as a plank of her floated. He did not consider unseaworthy, he said, and though the chances were poor he would try to take the vessel into some port. The officer of the Persian Monarch, knowing nothing then of the scuttling, thought that Robinson was crazy, and tried to persuade him to leave the bark, but he persisted and remained on the vessel.

When the boats reached the steamer, the captain, evidently becoming frightened, decided to return to his ship and called upon the men to return with him. All refused but the first mate. Immediately after the captain and mate had been returned to their ship the steamer quit the vicinity, leaving the ship about five hundred miles south by east of Newfoundland.

GENERAL SHERIDAN'S LIFE.

The Only Authorized One Is That Written by Himself.

NONQUITT, Mass., Aug. 29.—It is well known that the manuscript of Gen. Sheridan's personal memoirs is in the hands of New York publishers. From the sale of the book it has been expected that Mrs. Sheridan would receive a large addition to her small resources. Her friends have learned with considerable anxiety that publishers at Springfield and elsewhere are preparing to issue unauthorized lives of this great soldier. They fear that their impositions may not only tend to the discredit of Gen. Sheridan's career, but also to the financial injury of his widow. Col. M. V. Sheridan has written a letter to Mr. John L. Johnson, of Springfield, Mass., in which he says:

"In answer to your inquiry, whether there will be published an authentic history of Gen. Sheridan's life and if so when, I have the pleasure to inform you that the 'Personal Memoirs of P. H. Sheridan,' written by himself, will be published at New York by December 1, 1888. This will be the only authentic life of Gen. Sheridan and as he spent the best part of the four years preceding his death upon it, I believe it will be found a most interesting and creditable performance. Attempts are being made to impose on the public with pretended authentic lives of Gen. Sheridan. These books are all frauds, as there is no manuscript in existence except that of the memoirs already referred to, from which an authentic life could be printed, and no complete material except that which is in the hands of the general's executors."

THE FIRE RECORD.

Large Stocking Factory Burned at Cincinnati—Other Fires.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 29.—About 2 o'clock a. m. a fire broke out in the four-story building at the southeast corner of John and Betts streets, occupied by Herman Klein & Son as a stocking factory.

The flames had a big start and spread from the bottom to the top of the building, the fire originating in the machine room in the cellar and going up the elevator shaft like a flash.

The building was gutted, causing a loss on stock and machinery of almost $90,000. The firm's books were also lost.

The building belonged to M. Goldsmith, whose loss will reach $90,000 more.

Two frame houses, adjoining the building on Betts street, occupied by families named Kelly and Green, took fire and burned. The women had great trouble in arousing and getting the inmates out.

About fifty girls and as many men and boys were employed at the establishment, all of whom are thrown out of employment.

At Waterloo, Iowa.

WATERLOO, Iowa, Aug. 29.—The furniture stock of E. L. Hostler in this city was burned Monday morning. The building was saved with only $2,000 damage. Loss on stock $10,000. The insurance on stock was $5,000. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

MECHANICSBURG, Pa., Aug. 29.—Fire Monday night destroyed the agricultural works of Houck & Constock of this place. The flames started in the woodshop and it is thought they were of incendiary origin. Loss on stock and buildings estimated at $20,000, with $5,000 insurance.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Topics of the Times Given in a terse and spicy manner.

Fire at Clinton, Ind., caused a loss of $40,000.

The Indiana Turner societies closed their session at Evansville Monday.

Greene Township, near Youngstown, defeated local option by two votes.

A good deal of damage was done to crops in southern Indiana by the heavy rains Sunday.

Lucy Stephenson, living near Ripley, O., died from blood poisoning, occasioned by stinging of an insect.

The potato bugs have encamped at West Liberty, O., and have captured all the garden truck in sight.

Cornelius Van Arsdale, aged eighty-seven years, dropped dead with heart disease at Crawfordsville, Ind.

Eight Indian maidens have arrived in Wabash, Ind., where they will attend school and cease being heathens.

William Corning, a car driver at Newark, fell in a fit from the platform of his car and was dragged to death.

Charles Albright, a tinner, died at his home in Wheeling, W. Va., from injuries received on Friday by falling off a roof at Benwood.

Dr. Charles Souteloff, of Philadelphia, said to belong to a wealthy family of that place, is insane in the detention hospital of the Chicago county jail.

Mrs. Bigler, an old lady of Wabash, Ind., is fortunate in having had an uncle. He has just died in Germany and left $1,000,000. She is one of his heirs.

At Birmingham, Ala., John Williams, a clerk in a drug store, shot and instantly killed Simon Isaacks, a keeper of a soda water stand in the same store.

Governor Foraker has pardoned Charles Bolton, of Hamilton, sentenced for life for killing a political opponent while drunk, in 1884. Bolton has promised to refrain from liquor for the rest of his days.

Mrs. Lizzie Henshaw was released from the Indianapolis jail because there was "no better place therein to confine her where rats half a yard long run playfully about the floor," so the magistrate stated.

In accordance with the strange request of Mrs. Mary Magdalene Verge, of Peru, Ind., who died two days ago, her hands and feet were amputated and her heart cut out, and the parts prepared for transmission to France, her native land.

Cordelia Maudlin, a fourteen-year-old Vincennes girl, eloped with William Brown, aged thirty, got married, and was caught by her mother and trotted back home. An effort will be made to make Mrs. Brown simple Miss Maudlin again.

Dr. Talbot, assistant state veterinarian, has been ordered to investigate cases of Texas fever in Chicago. Thus far two cows have died from this cause and others are affected. The cases arise from pasturing cattle near the railroad track, over which Texas cattle are shipped.

National Association of Dental Faculties of the United States in session at Louisville elected the following officers: President, A. O. Hunt, Iowa City; vice president, Thomas Fillerbrown, Portland, Me.; secretary, J. E. Cravens, Indianapolis, Ind.; treasurer, Allison W. Harlan, Chicago.

Robert Herman, a Chicago barber, entered the office of Dr. D. C. Higgins and fired two shots at him at close range. Herman declared that he had attempted to kill Dr. Higgins because the latter had insulted a young lady who called on him professionally. Dr. Higgins declares the charge utterly groundless.

John H. Dere and George Yocum, brokers, of Reading, Pa., were arrested on the charge of conspiracy with Henry Marshall, the defaulting postmaster of St. Clair, who is now a fugitive from justice, to defraud the United States government. It is alleged that Marshall speculated with them in stocks and paid them in forged money orders, on which the drew money at the Reading post-office.

At the state military encampment at Evansville, Ind., the following prizes were awarded: Infantry drill, first prize, Fort Wayne rifles, $500; second, Evansville light infantry, $300; third, Company A, Indianapolis, $100; fourth, Evansville rifles, $50. Artillery drill, first prize, Rockville battery, $300; second, Elkhart battery, $100; third, Zollinger battery, $75. Gatling gun, Zollinger battery, $100. In the zouave drill, the prize of $75 was awarded to Company M, Second regiment, Indianapolis.

Sporting Notes.

R. C. Hewitt, president of the Washington club, is critically ill.

It is said that President Stern, of the Cincinnati club, will forsake base ball next season on account of the requirements of his other business.

A story from Baltimore is to the effect that Manager Snelz, of the Cincinnati club, is trying to exchange Muliane and Baldwin for Griffin, the Baltimore's brilliant center fielder.

Manager Watkins, of the Detroit club, has resigned, and Robert H. Leadley has been appointed in his place. The club has made a miserable showing this year under Watkins' management.

The five-mile international swimming race at Covey Island, N. Y., Monday, between Johnson, of England, and Levy, of America, was won by Johnson. Levy cramped and was out of the race.

Pat Sheedy, Jere Dunn, Joe Coburn and several other members of the New York sporting fraternity had a good time with George Law, a New Yorker, who had more money than brains. Law has been "setting 'em up" to everything, giving a way over $400,000 worth of diamonds to the boys, besides paying all the bills. Law goes on periodic jamborees, always winding up with a foolish outburst of liberality.

CHICOFF, Mass., Aug. 29.—A diphtheria epidemic is raging at South Hadley, Mass., the site of the Mount Holyoke Female college and seminary. In four days thirty-four cases have been reported, and four deaths have occurred. The college will open for the fall term early in September, and it is feared the attendance will be small till all danger from the disease is passed.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
of New York.

For Vice President,
ALLAN G. THURMAN,
of Ohio.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE.

Comments of the Press on the Selection of Hon. Thomas H. Paynter.

The Maysville convention gave the Democracy of the Ninth District Thomas H. Paynter for a Congressional standard-bearer. Now let all hands pull together strong and elect him by a rousing majority. Let's redeem that district. We need additional votes in Congress, and here's a chance to size them up. Let every Democrat in the Ninth district feel that the eyes of the whole country are upon him.—Louisville Democrat.

Thomas H. Paynter hails from Greenup County and is a lawyer of recognized ability. He was born in Lewis and is a self-made man. He is able to meet his opponent on the stump and favors the Mills bill. His nomination is acceptable to every one, and there can be no doubt of Democrats supporting him cordially and heartily.—Paris Kentuckian-Citizen.

The action of the Democratic convention at Maysville in placing Thomas H. Paynter in nomination, was wise and patriotic. It was truly a convention of representative Democrats, met to consider the best interests of the party and take steps to bring about unity and harmony. They were in earnest, and that earnest desire to deserve success and achieve it pervades and permeates the whole district. Every county was represented and there was not a single contested seat. The nomination of Thomas H. Paynter puts the Democratic party on deck with a worth leader. Born in poverty, with none of the fortuitous circumstances which sometimes contribute to press men to a prominent place in life's arena, he was compelled to be the architect of his own fortune, and by sheer force of native talent, industry and pluck he has won such a hold upon the confidence and affections of his fellow citizens that they have, almost unsolicited, asked him to stand as their representative in this contest for the triumph of Democratic principles. Our space will not allow us to go into further details, but be assured Thomas H. Paynter is worthy of the confidence of the people.—Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.

Hon. T. H. Paynter, the Democratic nominee for Congress in the Ninth district, is one of the finest men in the State. He is six feet tall, symmetrically formed, wears a moustache like John C. Breckinridge used to wear, is a splendid orator, a magnetic man and is as gentle in demeanor as a lady. He will carry the district like a whirlwind.—Bourbon News.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has sent his check for $10,000 to the National Executive Committee to aid in paying the expenses of the campaign. Other prominent Democrats followed suit to the tune of $150,000. The committee are preparing to attack the enemy at every point, and are feeling confident of winning in the Northwest. There'll be music in the air pretty soon.

JUMPING FROM THE SKY.

Sensations Experienced by a Female Parachute Flyer.

"I suppose a brief story on the way I jump would be interesting to you," said a female aeronaut. "It's all so simple to me, though, that I can't understand why it should excite people as it does, for I have actually seen women faint away and men turn deathly pale after I had cut the ropes and started heavenward. You see, I always take a look downward when I am up a few hundred feet—just why, I am sure I can't say. And right here let me tell you that I have sometimes singled out from the sea of upturned faces just the ones I knew were going to be shaded with disappointment should I fail to fall and be smashed to pieces. You may think the notion is all in my brain, but I have it firmly fixed there, at any rate, and I know there are such people in the world.

"Where are we? Oh, yes, going up—rather, the earth is dropping away beneath our feet—you know that is always the sensation. The parachute which we are to cut loose at the proper time hangs listlessly downward. The rope which holds it to the balloon passes through a steel ring. A sharp knife blade, worked by a cord, is so arranged that at the proper time a little jerk—and we are free.

"Now comes the exciting moment, even to the veteran. Above you the balloon, freed of the weight which gave it steadiness, is rocking and reeling, while the parachute is whirling downward. You did not feel that you were ascending, but as you shut your eyes and draw in your breath in little gasps—a long drawn inspiration would be impossible—you are fully aware that you are descending—that you are going with such frightful velocity, too, that unless there comes an end, and that end soon, the end of all things will be at hand. Prickly sensations shoot over your frame; and as you gasp for breath it seems as if a knife had been thrust into your vitals. Your thoughts are racing along with as great speed as your downward momentum; your courage, too, commences to leave you, and you are threatened with a total collapse—death!

"Suddenly the mad rush is checked. The parachute has grasped the situation, so to speak. At least it has 'grasped' sufficient air to open it out, and as it gradually expands the motion becomes steadier, until you are descending so slowly and gently that you actually have a sleepy sensation. And after the thrill, the shock of the moment before, the feeling is so dreamily delicious that really you are in danger from it unless you brace up and fight it off, for Mother Earth is showing her smiling but rugged face close to you again—it really appears as if the earth came back to you, just as it seemed to recede—and you must remember that you must be on the lookout for a safe landing place, and that more agility is required in this part of the feat than in any other.—Chicago Tribune."

A Remedy for Felted Feet.

A Chicago correspondent writes us for a remedy for perspiration of the feet, complaining that this trouble makes him unduly sensitive. Frequent washing, he asserts, does no good. The disease, for such it really is, may have its origin in the skin, in the glands or in the system, and the cause must first be removed. At least once a day or twice (if possible) the feet should be soaked in tannin and warm water. Stockings should be changed once or twice daily, and only woolen should be worn. Insoles of felt should be worn and changed with the stockings; they can be wet in chlorinated soda, and then dried for further use. The stockings, when removed, should be dried by the fire.—Herald of Health.

Wreck on the Burlington.

FAIRFIELD, Iowa, Aug. 29.—A westbound freight extra on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy collided with the rear of a construction train at Rock Creek, nine miles west of here, Monday afternoon. A. C. Rose, of Burlington road master, Patrick Ready and Patrick Griffin, section men, were instantly killed and John Kelly and Timothy Murphy injured. The construction had orders to pass a passenger train at Batavia, but undertook to back into Krum and seemed to have been running more than twenty miles an hour. The freight had flagged at Krum to run slow to Batavia, but was running fast. The wreck showed great force of collision. Ten cars and an engine were wrecked.

The Old Man Refuses to Retire.

TUSCULUM, Ill., Aug. 29.—A few days ago W. F. Purcell and Miss Libbie Miller, daughter of Elias Miller, a wealthy farmer, disappeared, and were married at a neighboring town. They returned home yesterday, and showed their marriage certificate, but Farmer Miller was relentless. He had a warrant issued for the arrest of the young man, on the charge of kidnapping his child, but the papers proving defective, Purcell was released to join his bride. Miller is still determined that the marriage shall be annulled and the kidnaper punished. The parties are all widely known, and the affair has caused a lively sensation.

Joined the Crowd in Canada.

MILLSDALE, Mich., Aug. 29.—Charles W. Waldron, who, with B. Northrup, owns a savings bank at Reading, and with Ezra L. Koon, a private bank in this city, left there last Wednesday morning. Monday afternoon it was learned that he had gone to Canada with Mrs. Bidwell, of Quincy, and some of the assets of both banks, about $53,000 in all, and most of his personal property. There has been quite a run on the bank. Waldron leaves a wife and two children, and before going away he deeded his wife a small amount of property.

Struck a Rock and Went Down.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Aug. 29.—The barge W. Crosthwaite, bound up, loaded with coal, ran on the rocks at Sault's encampment Sunday. A hole was staved in her and she sank thirty minutes later, her pumps proving ineffectual in keeping down the water. Her crew arrived here Monday morning. The Crosthwaite was built in 1866, is 333 tons burden, and is valued at $16,000, an A 2 rating. She was insured for $12,500.

"Free Trade, Free Land and Free Men." NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A very large meeting of the advocates of the single tax on land was held at Cooper Union Monday night. It was addressed by Henry George, William Lloyd Garrison and others, all of whom heartily endorsed the nomination of Cleveland and Thurman, and issued the campaign cry, "Free Trade, Free Land and Free Men."

Finally Accepts.

AUGUSTA, Me., Aug. 29.—On Saturday last the Hon. Edwin C. Burleigh formally accepted the Republican nomination for governor.

Dr. Robert N. Taylor.

"The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power, And all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave, Await alike the inevitable hour—The paths of glory lead but to the grave." Dr. Robert N. Taylor, of Toltzboro, Lewis County, died August 13th, after a brief illness, in his thirty-fourth year, having been born in Washington, Ky., January 23, 1853. Thus passed away in the early years of his strength and usefulness an upright man, a learned physician, and a citizen held in esteem by all who knew him. Dr. Taylor was in every respect a self-made man, and overcame every obstacle in the attainment of his ends by indomitable perseverance and will-power. He was nurturing in his research after truth, and had his physical powers been equal to those of his mind and will, doubtless he would yet be in our midst.

From a boy he was esteemed for his strict conscientiousness and regard for truth, as well as his detestation of everything that savored of deceit and littleness. Naturally of a painstaking and laborious disposition, he excelled both as a physician and as a surgeon, and had doubtless performed more difficult operations in surgery than any man of his age in Kentucky. He was quick to make friends and steadfast and unswerving in his friendship. As far as our mortal eyes can see it looked as though his taking off was untimely, yet he had accomplished more in the interest of truth and science in the few years of life allotted him than the great majority of men do in their four-score years. He was recently made an honorary member of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington City; was a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, physician in session at Cleveland, at which he had been requested to lecture; and the trustees of Harvard College had lately tried to engage his services to travel extensively in geological research, he having made this science a study for years.

Nature had endowed this young man's mind with a lavish hand, and he had added to it immeasurably by study and cultivation, yet he was singularly retiring and unassuming in his intercourse with men. Dr. Taylor was a ready and forcible writer, and was a frequent contributor to the medical journals, many of his articles on account of their high order of merit being copied into French, Italian and other foreign medical works.

He met his death in the discharge of his duty, being really too ill to make his last ride, a distance of some twenty miles, yet he went and his life was the forfeit.

It is he a loss to the community and State, who can estimate the loss to his young wife, and the son in whom he took such pride and for whom he had planned a course in life which would make him a useful and honored man.

The king of terrors had no terror for him, and he directed measures tending to his relief to within two hours of his dissolution with as much calmness as though he were treating a patient, although he was suffering the most excruciating pain. Scarcely had there passed a more heroic soul to the great beyond, and as he had lived so he died with firmness and resignation, commending his soul to his Father in Christ. In the midst of the vast concourse brought together to do the last sad rites for the honored dead, many a strong man wept, for they were all his friends. Well might they weep for not soon shall the like of this man be seen among them.

TWO FORMER CITIZENS.

Death of Charles Henry Dobyns at Lexington, and Alexander M. Holton at Cincinnati.

Within the past few days, death has called two former citizens of Maysville from the busy scenes of life to their final rest.

At Lexington last Saturday, Charles Henry Dobyns died, of paralysis. He was stricken down in November 1884, and was a great sufferer from that on till death came to his relief. The deceased was born near this city December 27, 1830. He was a son of Samuel T. Dobyns and a grandson of Daniel Lawson Dobyns, who was one of the early settlers of Mason County. He held the position of mailing clerk in the postoffice here during the terms of postmasters Eli D. Anderson and William Pickett years ago. In 1859 he removed to Lexington where the rest of his life—with the exception of a short time spent in California—was spent as clerk in the postoffice. His remains were interred last Sunday afternoon. The Transcript says: "Few men had warmer friends than Mr. Dobyns. In his breast there beat a warm and generous heart and with that heart-throb his heart was ever open. His natural manner was retiring and diffident which might impress a stranger as cold or distant, but to the circle of intimate friends he was life and joy, because he was bright, had read extensively, had a retentive memory and a rich vein of wit and humor. . . . But he has at last received his final discharge from a post of public service which he filled, until stricken down, with credit and integrity. He has, too, gone from a community he faithfully served, by which he was highly respected and by which he surely deserves to be long and kindly remembered."

ALEXANDER M. HOLTON.

The Daily Enquirer says: "Citizens of Cincinnati will readily recall the wholesale dry goods firm of Pearce, Tolle & Holton, which for many years succeeded in the war did an immense business, first on Pearl street, then on Vine street opposite the Burnett House.

"Mr. Alexander M. Holton, the last survivor of the three partners, after a long and heroic struggle with disease, passed gently from earth early Sunday morning. "He was born near Nashville, Tenn., in 1824, removed to Maysville, Ky., in 1830, and engaged in the dry goods business there under the firm name of Pearce, Wallingford & Co. He remained there until 1862, the second year of the war, when he removed to Cincinnati with his partners and commenced business as stated above. The firm was changed by the death of Mr. Pearce in 1870 to Tolle, Holton & Co.

"Mr. Holton won and retained the respect of the community and the warm friendship of a great circle of friends. He combined business tact and capacity with remarkable serenity and character, and was never known to lose his temper or to say an unkind word to any one.

"Naturally averse to any publicity or notoriety, he devoted himself almost exclusively to his counting-room duties and the pleasures of his family circle, and yet at times he held the responsible positions of director in the Globe Insurance Company and in the Third National Bank. He was a regular attendant and active supporter of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, and always threw his influence on the right side in all matters of public concern. He retired from business in 1878, and experienced a very severe attack of illness in 1884, from the effects of which he partially recovered, but was stricken down again in July, 1887, and since then has slowly failed."

G. A. R.

Don't fail to attend the G. A. R. camp fire and ball at Dieterich's Grove September 15th, 16th and 17th. Everything will be done to make it an enjoyable affair. The best of order will be maintained. Admission 10 cents. Ladies free. 28d5t JOSEPH HEISER, Post No. 13.

K. of P. Pic-Nic.

The Knights of Pythias of this city will celebrate the anniversary of the Uniform Rank to-morrow with a pic-nic in Keith's Grove, Charleston Bottom. The Ripley fair trains will carry passengers to Broshar's Station, near the grove, at 20 cents round trip. A platform has been arranged for dancing, and a good orchestra will furnish music. Refreshments served on the grounds.

Our Public Library.

There are over 1,100 patrons of the public library at Portsmouth and about 500 books are issued weekly. The present library building at that point is inadequate to the needs of the people and a new one is to be erected.

The public library here in Maysville is not what it ought to be, and the move on foot to improve the building and establish reading rooms should be encouraged. Everybody can afford to give a dollar. Subscription papers can be found at Pecor's drug store.

Attention, U. R. K. of P.

Members of Maysville Division No. 6, U. R. K. of P., will assemble to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock, prompt, in full uniform with cap, to attend pic-nic in Keith's Grove. JAMES K. LLOYD, Captain.

Prompt Payment by the K. of P.

Fred Otto, well known to all of our citizens, died on the 16th day of July. On the 25th of August, Mrs. Otto, his widow, received $1,000 from the Endowment Rank through Captain Joseph Cheesman, secretary, of Aberdeen. This early settlement of all death claims commends the order and the Endowment Rank to all of our citizens.

When Justice Did not Wait Long.

Our popular Justice, Warren D. Lewis, is "in luck." He purchased one-twentieth of ticket 71,678 of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, and at the monthly drawing of the company, held on the 12th inst., that ticket drew the second capital prize of $100,000. "Yes," said the Justice, "to-day I received the money by express."—Babylon (N. Y.) Signal, June 30.

Hon. D. J. Burchett the Republican Nominee.

The Republican Congressional convention at Catlettsburg yesterday was a tame affair, and soon over.

After the organization of the convention was effected, Hon. W. J. Worthington, of Greenup, and Hon. D. J. Burchett, of Lawrence, were placed in nomination. The first ballot resulted in a majority for Mr. Burchett, and he was declared the nominee.

Mr. Burchett is a merchant of Louisa, and is well known in this city.

The Bureick Estate.

A special from Washington City says: "Mr. Watson A. Sudduth, of Flemingsburg, who has been taking depositions in big Bureick case in Baltimore, left for home Sunday night. Bureick, a German worth $75,000, was killed in Robertson County, Kentucky, two or three years ago, and being unmarried his heirs were unknown. A woman in Baltimore set up a claim as a cousin, but Sudduth discovered a sister of the man in Germany in a poverty-stricken condition, and is rapidly paving her way to wealth. He will sail for Germany shortly to complete the case in which event he will be entitled to a fat fee."

THE Wilbur Opera Company booked for Washington Opera House September 7th, is playing to crowded houses at Cincinnati this week.

DAVID OSBORNE, who died at Bethel, Clermont County, a few days ago, was an undertaker and during his career buried 4,000 persons.

THE PLOTTERS OF EUROPE

THE CZARINA VISITS HER FATHER, THE KING OF DENMARK.

She is Believed to Have Been Intrusted With Some Secret—Perambulations of the German Emperor—A Bloody War Being Waged in Morocco—Faseign.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The empress of Russia, accompanied by the czarowitz and the Grand Duchess Xenia, has arrived at Gmunden, upper Austria, where the czarina will meet with her father, the king of Denmark, and her brother, Prince Waldemar. It is believed in St. Petersburg that the czarina is intrusted with some diplomatic mission, and it is surmised that it concerns the nomination of a prince of Bulgaria. The assumption is that the czarina is authorized to intimate to Prince Waldemar, to whom the Bulgars offered the sovereignty prior to the election of Ferdinand, that on certain conditions the czar will support his candidacy. Waldemar referred the matter on the former occasion to his father, who refused his permission.

It has also been surmised that the main purpose of her visit is to join the voice of the czar to that of Germany to persuade the duke of Cumberland to give up his pretensions to Hanover and accept a kingship in the Balkans. However, Russia will not support the candidate who will not submit to a dominant Russian influence. He must be the creature of the czar whoever he may be. There is still another purpose attributed to her visit. Denmark was robbed of Schleswig-Holstein by Germany, assisted by Austria, and has never relinquished her right. As is Alsace-Lorraine to the French, so is the recovery of these principalities the National ambition of the Danes. If the czar contemplates, as he undoubtedly does in certain contingencies, cutting the gorgon knot in the east with the sword, he will expect his father-in-law to amuse Germany on the north, should the latter power come to the assistance of Austria. There would then be no question that France would feel that her time to strike had come.

William's Perambulations.
BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The king of Saxony met the emperor on his arrival at Dresden Monday. The town was decorated with flags, and 12,000 persons awaited his arrival. The emperor drove with the king through the city and was enthusiastically welcomed. He lunched with the officers of the emperor's regiment, and afterward drove to the Pillnitz palace and dined with Queen Carola and forty guests.

The emperor will leave Berlin the last week in September, and will visit the grand duke of Baden at Karlsruhe, the king of Wurtemberg at Stuttgart, and Prince Luitpold at Munich. Thence he will go via the Brenner pass to Italy. Returning he will go via Venice to Rome.

William no doubt desires to be on terms of personal friendship with the royalties of the German confederacy, whom he and Prussia overshadow. The smaller states are by no means proud of Hohenzollern greatness or the enforced unity that redounds solely to the glory of Prussia. The extreme diligence manifested in his visiting indicates a belief that he has but a short time in which to gain some knowledge of the men whom it will be well to know in time of conflict.

War in Morocco.
LONDON, Aug. 29.—The rebellious subjects of Muley Hassan have turned the tables on him. Some time ago he put to death a peace deputation sent by them. They have returned the challenge to his own lips by inviting him to send and collect tribute. He responded by dispatching his son, Prince Muley, with an escort of 200 horsemen, all of whom the rebels entrapped and slew to a man.

Now he is himself in pursuit of them, giving his troops full license to burn, pillage, murder and enslave. The troops have devastated the country of the rebels and committed all kinds of outrages. The rebels have gathered head, however, and now the sultan is said to be besieged. The country is in a terrible state, and famine is adding to the horrors. From Tangiers the powers are being urged to send ships to protect the lives of Jews and Christians, and to interfere generally to prevent atrocities.

Stricken Down While Speaking.
PARIS, Aug. 29.—Conan, the Communist, who was wounded in the leg in the riots attending the funeral of Gen. Enes, suddenly fell to the ground stricken with syncope Monday, while addressing a meeting.

Foreign Notes.
The czar and czarina are about to found a monastery in Abyssinia.

The secretary of an Italian benevolent society has been expelled from Nice on the charge of espionage.

Mr. Gladstone has presented to a church in Flintshire the money he received from his reply to Robert G. Ingersoll.

Memorial services for the late Bishop Harris, of Michigan, were held in Westminster abbey on Sunday. The bishop of Minnesota preached the funeral sermon.

At a conference of clergy at Drogheda, the primates presiding, resolutions were adopted demanding the release of John Dillon, expressing sympathy with and confidence in Mr. Parnell, and approving the raising of a fund for Mr. Parnell's defense.

Balloonist Simoes, with two companions, made an ascension from the Italian exhibition. The balloon descended in Essex, and, dashing against trees, was smashed to pieces and the occupants were thrown out. Simoes is dead. The others are seriously injured.

It is considered not unlikely that the purpose of the shah's visit to Europe is either to effect the best possible terms with the czar or to secure the support of some European power in opposing him. The encroachment of Russia upon the territory of his serene highness is becoming odious.

The seventh International congress of Americanists will meet in Berlin October 2. The session will last four days. The subjects to be discussed are as follows: First day—"The Discovery of America and American Geology." Second day—"American Archaeology." Third day—"Ethnography." Fourth day—"Paleography and Languages of America."

New Bishop of Detroit.
BALTIMORE, Aug. 29.—The papal brief appointing Rev. Dr. John S. Foley to the bishopric of Detroit, has been received by Cardinal Gibbons. No day has yet been set for the consecration, but it will not take place before November.

HE FED THE BEAR A PEANUT.

The Terrible Experience of a Doctor at the Cincinnati Zoo.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 29.—Dr. William Knight, professor of anatomy at the Ohio Dental college, is very fond of animals, and a few days ago visited the Zoo. Holding a peanut between his thumb and forefinger he presented it to a large black bear. The bear had only been in the garden three weeks and did not enjoy the performance. Instead of taking the peanut the savage brute buried his teeth in the doctor's wrist and pulled him toward the cage. Persons standing about screamed and ran.

Fortunately Dr. Knight retained his presence of mind and kept his eyes intently fixed on those of the bear. The animal made desperate efforts to get its victim into the cage. A cinnamon bear, which had heretofore been friendly, rushed up and struck the doctor some savage blows. Finally the doctor's eyes abashed the bear and he loosened his hold.

The arm and wrist were in a terrible condition. The flesh was torn and one of the muscles of the arm was pulled out of its course. An artery was severed, from which the blood flowed profusely. The doctor was confined to his bed for several days. He has no use of his hand or wrist.

GOVERNOR GRAY DETERMINED.

He Will Oust the White Caps If It Lies in His Power to Do So.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 29.—Governor Gray has written again to the judges and prosecuting attorneys of the judicial districts which are disturbed by the White Cap outrages, urging that increased exertion be made to cause to be indicted any and all persons who have in any way been connected with them. He promises to request the attorney general to attend the sessions of the grand juries of those counties to assist in any way possible in procuring the indictments, and insists that the perpetrators of the outrages must be ferreted out, though every citizen in the region who is supposed to have any knowledge of the proceedings shall be summoned for examination. The governor expresses a determination to end the disgraceful operations by which a few lawless men have brought Indiana into disrepute, and to lead the power of the state to the work to the utmost of its authority.

White Caps Have no Use for Fakirs.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Aug. 29.—During a soldiers' reunion held near English, Crawford county, last week, many gamblers and swindlers congregated about the encampment to fleece the soldiers in attendance. Their doings became known to the White Caps, and as they varied in the vicinity over Sunday, they were visited on Sunday night by the night riders, who ordered them to leave before daylight under penalty of a hundred lashes. A heavy rain was falling and the fakirs begged to be permitted to remain till Monday morning's train arrived to take them to St. Louis, Evansville and Chicago, where they belonged. The White Caps refused to grant their request, and the swindlers started off on foot in the rain going toward Evansville, and were all out of the county by Monday morning.

Severe Rain in Southern Indiana.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Aug. 29.—The southern part of Indiana has been visited by much the severest rains of the year. All the creeks and rivers have become great and destructive torrents, flooding corn fields, sweeping away fences, stacks of wheat and hay, and carrying off a great deal of valuable hardwood timber. The fruit crop has also suffered.

Killed Two Men With an Ax.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Aug. 29.—Frank and Elmer Hall, brothers, at Nashville, Ind., attacked Jacob Pavay, a aged sixty-five, but a powerful man. Pavay seized an ax and split Frank's skull open, killing him instantly, and also struck Elmer, mortally wounding him. Pavay made his escape. Elmer died in a few hours.

Retaliation Expected.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 29.—The impression prevails here that the "retaliation" measures of the United States are sure to be put into force within three months.
